VISIT OF SUMNER WELLES TO EUROPE

Statement by the President

[Released to the press by the White House March 29]

Under Secretary of State Welles has concluded the mission upon which he was sent to Europe and has reported to me and to the Secretary of State.

As I said when the announcement of Mr. Welles' mission was made, Mr. Welles was sent to Europe in order to obtain information with regard to existing conditions. He was neither authorized to make, nor has he made, any commitments involving the Government of the United States, nor was he empowered to offer, and he has not offered, any proposals in the name of this Government. He has not received, nor has he brought back to me, any peace proposals from any source.

The information which he has received from the heads of the governments which he has visited will be of the greatest value to this Government in the general conduct of its foreign relations. As was announced at the time of his departure from the United States, the information communicated to him by the Italian, German, French, and British Governments will be regarded as entirely confidential by this Government. It relates to the views and policies of the European governments mentioned.

I am glad to say that Mr. Welles' mission has likewise resulted, through personal contacts and through the conversations which he held, in a clarification of the relations between the United States and the countries which he visited and will, I believe, assist in certain instances in the development of better understanding and more friendly relations.

Finally, even though there may be scant immediate prospect for the establishment of any just, stable, and lasting peace in Europe, the information made available to this Government as a result of Mr. Welles' mission will undoubtedly be of the greatest value when the time comes for the establishment of such a peace.

To Mr. Welles go my thanks and full appreciation for carrying out this difficult mission with extraordinary tact and understanding and in accordance with the best American diplomatic traditions.

GERMAN WHITE BOOK

[Released to the press March 29]

Following is a statement by the Secretary of State:

"The press this evening carries the report of the issuance by the German Foreign Office of a White Book containing documents alleged to have been found in the archives of the Polish Foreign Office in Warsaw and purporting to contain accounts of conversations held by Polish officials with diplomatic representatives of the United States.

"I may say most emphatically that neither I nor any of my associates in the Department of State have ever heard of any such conversations as those alleged nor do we give them the slightest credence. The statements alleged have not represented in any way at any time the thought or policy of the American Government."

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR RELIEF IN BELLIGERENT COUNTRIES

[Released to the press March 25]

Following is a tabulation of contributions collected and disbursed during the period September 6, 1939, through February 29, 1940, as shown in the reports submitted by persons and organizations registered with the Secretary of State for the solicitation and collection of contributions to be used for relief in belligerent countries, in conformity with the regulations issued pursuant to section 8 of the act of November 4, 1939, as made effective by the President's proclamation of the same date.

This tabulation has reference only to contributions solicited and collected for relief in belligerent countries (France; Germany; Poland; and the United Kingdom, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa) or for the relief of refugees driven out of these countries by the present war. The statistics set forth in the tabulation do not include information regarding relief activities which a number of organizations registered with the Secretary of State may be carrying on in nonbelligerent countries, but for which registration is not required under the Neutrality Act of 1939.

The American National Red Cross is required by law to submit to the Secretary of War for audit "a full, complete, and itemized report of receipts and expenditures of whatever kind." In order to avoid an unnecessary duplication of work, this organization is not required to conform to the provisions of the regulations governing the solicitation and collection of contributions for relief in belligerent countries, and the tabulation does not, therefore, include information in regard to its activities.

The Far EastSETTING UP OF NEW REGIME AT NANKING

[Released to the press March 30]

In response to inquiries with regard to the attitude and position of the Government of the United States in the light of the setting up at Nanking of a new regime, the Secretary of State made a statement as follows:

"In the light of what has happened in various parts of China since 1931, the setting up of a new regime at Nanking has the appearance of a further step in a program of one country by armed force to impose its will upon a neighboring country and to block off a large area of the world from normal political and economic relationships with the rest of the world. The developments there appear to be following the pattern of other regimes and systems which have been set up in China under the aegis of an outside power and which in their functioning especially favor the interests of that outside power and deny to nationals of the United States and other third countries enjoyment of long-established rights of equal and fair treatment which are legally and justly theirs.

"The Government of the United States has noted statements of high officials of that outside power that their country intends to respect the political independence and the freedom of the other country and that with the development of affairs in East Asia this intention will be demonstrated. To this Government the circumstances, both military and diplomatic, which have attended the setting up of the new regime at Nanking do not seem consistent with such an intention.

"The attitude of the United States toward use of armed force as an instrument of national policy is well known. Its attitude and position with regard to various aspects of the situation in the Far East have been made clear on numerous occasions. That attitude and position remain unchanged.

"This Government again makes full reservation of this country's rights under international law and existing treaties and agreements.

"Twelve years ago the Government of the United States recognized, as did other governments, the National Government of the Republic of China. The Government of the United States has ample reason for believing that that Government, with capital now at Chungking, has had and still has the allegiance and support of the great majority of the Chinese people. The Government of the United States of course continues to recognize that Government as the Government of China."

The American Republics

VISIT TO WASHINGTON OF THE PRESIDENT-ELECT OF COSTA RICA AND SEÑORA DE CALDERÓN GUARDIA

[Released to the press by the Pan American Union March 27]

Following are the remarks of the Secretary of State made at the special session of the Governing Board of the Pan American Union in honor of the President-elect of Costa Rica, Dr. Rafael A. Calderón Guardia, on March 27, 1940:

"My colleagues have charged me with the pleasant duty of extending to you a warm welcome on behalf of the Governing Board of the Pan American Union. Collectively and individually, we rejoice at having you as our guest of honor today.

"The people of Costa Rica have placed upon you the high responsibilities of Chief Executive of your country. Please accept our best wishes for the fullest measure of success in the fulfillment of that important trust and our confident hope that, under your able guidance, the people of Costa Rica will go forward to ever higher levels of well-being and happiness.

"At the same time, we are all glad to avail ourselves of this opportunity to express our deep appreciation of the constant and unflinching support which your people and your Government have given to the movement for pan-American unity. The successive representatives of Costa Rica on the Governing Board of the Union and the distinguished member now representing your country have spared no effort in furthering the purposes for which the Union was established. The American republics feel assured that they may count on your wholehearted cooperation in the work of the Pan American Union, which has already conferred immense benefits upon the sister republics of the Western Hemisphere and holds a resplendent promise of further achievement."

Following are the remarks made at the same session by the President-elect of Costa Rica, Dr. Rafael A. Calderón Guardia:

"I deeply appreciate, Mr. Chairman, the cordial welcome you have extended to me on behalf of the Governing Board of the Pan American Union and in your own name, and I take pleasure in assuring you that I will always remember your kind wishes that I may carry out the task awaiting me with the success that all Costa Ricans wish for our country.

"Costa Rica is preparing to celebrate Pan American Day on April 14 with special ceremonies. This event is of unique importance this year because it marks a historic milestone in the work of continental approximation carried out by the Pan American Union. My country has for many years demonstrated its sincere interest and constant devotion to the ideals of pan-Americanism and for the consolidation of the principles of continental solidarity which have made Bolívar's dream a tangible reality. My Government will continue to give its most enthusiastic support to the work and purposes of the Pan American Union.

"I am sincerely convinced that my words are interpretative not only of my own feelings, but also of those of my fellow citizens, for Costa Rica looks toward the future with full confidence, certain of the benefits of pan-Americanism and bearing the hope that the ties of spiritual and material union between the peoples of this hemisphere will continue to be strengthened.

"In closing, permit me to extend to you, Mr. Chairman, my best wishes for your personal welfare and that of your colleagues and for the new triumphs which clearly await the Pan American Union."

General

ADDRESS BY THE PRESIDENT¹

[Released to the press by the White House March 16]

Before the advent of the Christian era, messengers and missionaries had traveled throughout the known world—they were commonly traders or soldiers seeking advantage for themselves, or agents of conquerors carrying notice of invasion to come.

When the Apostles and Disciples of Christ crossed into Macedonia and visited one after another the countries of the western world, they wrote a new chapter in human relations—for they carried for the first time a message of brotherhood, of faith and good will and peace among men.

Since those days the ideal of a peaceful world brotherhood has made glorious advances—for that ideal is not confined to the followers of the Christian faith but has been accepted as a part of the philosophy of other great religions—some of them older than Christianity and some more recent.

But the advance has not been in a straight line. It has met with serious reverses which have taken years and even centuries to offset.

¹Broadcast from the White House in connection with the Christian Foreign Service Convocation, March 16, 1940.

Nomad tribes from eastern Europe and western Asia required centuries of assimilation before they could understand the gospel of brotherhood. The early feudal days set castle against castle in thousands of tiny wars and slaughters and slavery which ended only in the setting up of governments able to maintain peace within their borders.

Today we seem once more to be in a temporary era where organized force is seeking to divide men and nations from one another. That is why it is right and proper to call together the representatives of the great religious bodies which seek not to divide but to unite men and nations in the old message of brotherhood and good will.

In dark days of the past that ideal has been saved in the long run by splendid efforts to maintain it in the minds and hearts of the average citizens in all nations.

Today we seek a moral basis for peace. It cannot be a real peace if it fails to recognize brotherhood. It cannot be a lasting peace if the fruit of it is oppression, or starvation, or cruelty, or human life dominated by armed camps. It cannot be a sound peace if small nations must live in fear of powerful neighbors. It cannot be a moral peace if freedom from invasion is sold for tribute. It cannot be an intelligent peace if it denies free passage to that knowledge of those ideals which permit men to find common ground. It cannot be a righteous peace if worship of God is denied.

On these fundamentals the world did not have a true peace in those years between the ending of the World War and the beginning of present wars.

The band of missionaries whom you now meet to honor understood this well. They permitted no threat to the integrity or the institutions of the nations in which they worked. They sought to promote an international order based on human justice.

The active search for peace which the early Christians preached meant meeting and overcoming those forces in the world which had set themselves against the brotherhood of man and which denied the equality of souls before the throne of God. In those olden days they faced apparently unconquerable force—and yet were victorious.

I offer my greetings to you as a congregation of faith, in the certainty that you will help to keep alive that spirit of kindness and faith which is the essence of civilization. I am confident of your ultimate triumph; for the ideals of justice, kindness, brotherhood, and faith cannot die. These are the highest of human ideals. They will be defended and maintained. In their victory the whole world stands to gain; and the fruit of it is peace.

Commercial Policy

TRADE AGREEMENT WITH SWITZERLAND

Proposed Termination in Part of Concession on Handkerchiefs

[Released to the press March 29]

It has been ascertained that imports into the United States of handkerchiefs included in item 1529 (b) of schedule II of the trade agreement with Switzerland, signed on January 9, 1936,² have been in major part from countries other than Switzerland, and that imports of these handkerchiefs have increased very considerably over the levels obtaining before the entry into effect of the reduced duties established pursuant to the agreement.

Under article XVI of the Swiss agreement, each country has reserved the right, after consultation with the government of the other country, to withdraw or to modify the concession granted on any article, if, as a result of the extension of the concession to third countries, such countries obtain the major benefit of the concession, and in consequence thereof an unduly large increase in imports takes place. This Government is considering taking action, pursuant to article XVI, to withdraw from the concession certain hand-ornamented handkerchiefs at present included in item 1529 (b), in which the increase in imports has primarily taken place.

The concession on handkerchiefs granted by the United States in item 1529 (b) of the Swiss agreement applies at present to the articles described below. The reduced rates are also shown.

Trade-agreement item	Description of article	Rate of duty

² Executive Agreement Series No. 90.

Trade-agreement item	Description of article	Rate of duty
	to finish or ornament the openwork, not including one row of straight hemstitching adjoining the hem; any of the foregoing, finished or unfinished, which contain no hand-made lace and which are not embroidered or tambooured in any part by hand:
	Composed wholly or in chief value of cotton.	2¢ each and 30% ad val.
	Composed wholly or in chief value of vegetable fiber other than cotton:
	If finished and valued at 80 cents or more per dozen.	2¢ each and 30% ad val.
	If unhemmed and without any finished edge, and valued at 45 cents or more per dozen.	2¢ each and 30% ad val.

In the case of handkerchiefs of the foregoing descriptions valued at 70 cents or less per dozen, the reduction in duty was from the rate provided for in the Tariff Act of 1930 of 3 cents each plus 40 percent ad valorem, to 2 cents each plus 30 percent ad valorem. In the case of such handkerchiefs valued at more than 70 cents per dozen, the reduction in duty was from the statutory rate of 4 cents each plus 40 percent ad valorem, to 2 cents each plus 30 percent ad valorem. An additional duty of 1 cent each on handkerchiefs valued at 70 cents or less per dozen and having hand-rolled or hand-made hems was not changed by the agreement.

Under the action contemplated, certain hand-ornamented handkerchiefs would be excluded from the concession, so that the rates of duty specified in item 1529 (b) of the trade agreement would apply only to the following:

Trade-agreement item	Description of article	Rate of duty
1529(b).....	Handkerchiefs, wholly or in part of machine-made lace; handkerchiefs embroidered (whether with a plain or fancy initial, monogram, or otherwise, and whether or not the embroidery is on a scalloped edge), tambooured, applique, or from which threads have been omitted, drawn, punched, or cut, and with threads introduced after weaving to finish or ornament the openwork, not including one row of straight hemstitching adjoining the hem; any of the foregoing, finished or unfinished, which contain no hand-made lace, which are not embroidered, tambooured, or applique in any part by hand, from which threads have not been omitted, drawn, punched, or cut by hand, and having no threads introduced by hand to finish or ornament the openwork:

Trade-agreement item	Description of article	Rate of duty
	Composed wholly or in chief value of cotton.	2¢ each and 30% ad val.
	Composed wholly or in chief value of vegetable fiber other than cotton:
	If finished and valued at 80 cents or more per dozen.	2¢ each and 30% ad val.
	If unhemmed and without any finished edge, and valued at 45 cents or more per dozen.	2¢ each and 30% ad val.
	Provided , That no handkerchiefs shall be excluded from classification under this item by reason of incidental handwork necessary to finish the machine work or to mend or correct defects, which handwork has been performed in connection with the appliqueing, or omitting, drawing, punching, or cutting of threads and the introduction of threads to finish or ornament the openwork of the handkerchiefs.

The foregoing description may be modified in the light of presentations received from interested persons or as a result of consultation with the Swiss Government. The duties on handkerchiefs which would be excluded from the concession as a result of the proposed action would return to the statutory rates, previously referred to, which were in effect prior to the agreement.

Any person desiring to submit any information or views with respect to the proposed action should present them to the Committee for Reciprocity Information in accordance with the announcement issued by that Committee today, a copy of which follows:

CLAIMS

Convention With Norway for the Disposition of the Claims of Christoffer Hannevig and George R. Jones

On March 28, 1940, a convention was signed at Washington by the Secretary of State and the Norwegian Minister providing for the disposition of the claim of the Government of Norway against the Government of the United States on behalf of Christoffer Hannevig and the claim of the United States against the Government of Norway on behalf of George R. Jones.

In the first-mentioned case the Norwegian Government has made claim against the Government of the United States on account of damages alleged to have been sustained by Christoffer Hannevig, a Norwegian subject, as a result of acts of the Government of the United States and the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation in relation to certain shipbuilding companies organized by Mr. Hannevig in this country in 1916 and 1917. Because of the exigencies of war and the great need for ships, it was necessary for this Government to take over by means of requisition all ships building in the various shipyards located in the United States.

After the war an attempt was made to settle accounts between the Emergency Fleet Corporation and Mr. Hannevig, and in 1926 a compromise settlement was reached. The Norwegian Government has, over a period of years, espoused the claim of Mr. Hannevig for a much larger settlement, and the claim has been consistently denied by the United States.

The purpose of the convention is to determine the merits of the contentions of the respective Governments. It provides first for an exchange of pleadings and evidence by the two Governments and, if the claim cannot then be settled by agreement, for submission of the pleadings to the United States Court of Claims for adjudication.

The claim of George R. Jones, an American citizen, against the Government of Norway, is based upon losses suffered by Mr. Jones in relation to large shipments of shoes sent to Norway in 1920.

The convention, in this case, provides for pleadings, limited to four in number, namely, a memorial, an answer, a brief, and a reply brief. In the event the two Governments shall be unable to agree upon the settlement of the case within 6 months after the reply brief shall have been filed, the pleadings shall be referred by means of a joint communication of the two agents to a sole arbitrator for decision. In the event of the inability of the two Governments to agree upon an arbitrator, the arbitrator shall be selected by His Majesty the King of Great Britain, Ireland, and the British Dominions Beyond the Seas, Emperor of India. The decision of the arbitrator, which shall be rendered within 3 months from the conclusion of oral proceedings, shall be accepted by the two Governments as a final and conclusive disposition of this case.
